Michael Kaeding was born on 19 June 1977 in Wuppertal (Germany) where he received his Abitur at the St. Anna Schule in 1996. From 1997 to 2002, he studied Public Policy and Management at the University of Konstanz, Moscow State University (Russia) and Università degli Studi di Pavia (Italy). In October 2002, he graduated with a master thesis on rapporteurship assignments in the European Parliament. From December 2002 to November 2006, he worked as a Ph.D. fellow in a NWO-funded research project on ‘Analyzing EU Policies: The Transposition of Directives’ at the Department of Public Administration of Leiden University in the Netherlands. He followed postgraduate training at the ECPR Summer School in Data Analysis and Social Sciences in Essex, the Oslo Summer School at ARENA, the Copenhagen Business School and the Netherlands Institute of Government. From December 2006 to September 2007, he was a Postdoc in the GAK-financed project ‘Hervorming Sociale Zekerheid’ at the Leiden Department of Tax Law and Economics. His publications include articles for European Union Politics, Journal of Public Policy, Journal of European Public Policy, Journal of Common Market Studies, Comparative European Politics, French Politics, Journal of European Integration, European Law Journal, Journal of Legislative Studies and International Political Science Review. He gained teaching experience at the University of Konstanz (Germany), Leiden University (the Netherlands), the University of Victoria (Canada) and the University of Grenoble (France). Work experience includes the Delegation of the European Commission to the U.S. (Political Section and Press & Public Affairs), the Secretariat General of the Council of the European Union (DGC III Transport) and the Brussels-based Centre for European Policy Studies (CEPS). Currently Michael Kaeding is a Lecturer at the EU Decision-Making Unit of the European Institute for Public Administration (EIPA) in Maastricht, the Netherlands.
