Contents

Chapter 1 General introduction .................................................. 9
Chapter 2 Implementation of hysteroscopic surgery in The Netherlands .... 13
Chapter 3 Hysteroscopic surgery: perspectives on skills training ............ 21
Chapter 4 Hysteroscopic morcellator for removal of intrauterine polyps and myomas: a randomised controlled trial among residents in training 29
Chapter 5 Diagnostic hysteroscopy in abnormal uterine bleeding: a systematic review and meta-analysis ............................... 41
Chapter 6 A randomised comparison of discomfort of vaginoscopic office hysteroscopy with saline infusion sonography .................... 57
Chapter 7 Diagnostic hysteroscopy and saline infusion sonography in the diagnosis of intrauterine abnormalities: an assessment of patient preference .................................................. 67
Chapter 8 Follow-up after incomplete hysteroscopic removal of uterine myomas ................................................................. 75
Chapter 9 Hysteroscopic polypectomy in premenopausal women with abnormal uterine bleeding: a six-month follow-up ......................... 83
Chapter 10 Hysteroscopic polypectomy in premenopausal women with abnormal uterine bleeding: a long-term follow-up ...................... 89
Chapter 11 The impact of alternatives for abnormal uterine bleeding on hysterectomy rates in a tertiary referral centre ......................... 95
Chapter 12 General discussion ..................................................... 103
Chapter 13 Recommendations for clinical practice ............................ 109
Chapter 14 Summary / Samenvatting ........................................... 111

Literature ................................................................. 121
Author affiliations ............................................................ 135
About the author ............................................................ 137
Publications ................................................................. 139
Acknowledgments .......................................................... 142