The third, held in 1998 and co-organized with the Islamic Research and Training Institute of the Gerakan Muhammadiyah in Indonesia (for MA degrees); ‘The Link between Bay’ Al-Salam and Islamic Microfinance in Malaysia (for PhD degrees). The above activities run concurrently with research and consultancy works. To date, IDMP has completed two research projects, firstly on the ‘Islamization of Development in Malaysia’ and secondly on the ‘Implementation of Islamic Development: A Comparative Analysis of Kerala and Terengganu’. At the moment IDMP is carrying out two other research projects on the ‘Commercialization of Agriculture’ and ‘Management of Islamic Re-vivalism in Malaysia’. It has also begun consolodation work for the Higher Education Department of the Malaysian Ministry of Education, investigating the ‘Entrance of Religious Students into the Ministry of Education Institutions in Malaysia’.

As such, achieving a formal status for the IDMP is still a distant dream. Although it receives basic office facilities and minor programmes in Islamic Development Management, Islamic Politics, Islamic Economics, Islamic Development and Islamic Systems, the IDMP would not be able to accomplish its objectives without a solid financial base and a strong group of members to work tirelessly for the cause. The way forward

To date, the IDMP has enjoyed cooperation with various institutions in organizing its in-house seminars, academic meetings, international conferences and publications. It hopes to continue such cooperation, taking it further to the level of the individual to that of society, from spiritual to material and physical, and from the level of the individual to that of society, from spiritual to material and physical.

Notes

The third international conference on Islamic Political Economy in Capitalist Globalization: An Agenda for Change was co-organized with the International Conference on Islamic Political Economy in Capitalist Globalization: An Agenda for Change and was published by Utusan Publications and Distributors, 1996.

The books, all published by Utusan Publications and Distributors, are Political Economy, Managing Development, and Islamic Development Management: Managing Development.

The Islamic Development Management Project (IDMP) was established in 1995 at the School of Social Sciences, University of Science Malaysia. As a research and consultancy institute, it undertakes the task of strengthening its members with knowledge of Islam and related disciplines, as well as disseminating this knowledge through weekly Qur’anic studies, monthly in-house seminars, academic meetings, international conferences (every two years), research, publications and consultancy projects. The IDMP undertakes the task of strengthening its members with knowledge of Islam and related disciplines, as well as disseminating this knowledge through weekly Qur’anic studies, monthly in-house seminars, academic meetings and international conferences. The first international conference, a seminar on Islamic Approach to Development Management, was held in Kota Bharu, Kelantan in 1998; while the second, a book discussion on Islamic Political Economy in Capitalist Globalization: An Agenda for Change, was co-organized with the Secretariat for Islamic Political Economy in Capitalist Globalization: An Agenda for Change, and was published by Utusan Publications and Distributors, 1996.

The second, a book discussion on Islamic Political Economy in Capitalist Globalization: An Agenda for Change, was co-organized with the Secretariat for Islamic Political Economy in Capitalist Globalization: An Agenda for Change, and was published by Utusan Publications and Distributors, 1996.

The books, all published by Utusan Publications and Distributors, are Political Economy, Managing Development, and Islamic Development Management: Managing Development.

The IDMP has, for nearly two years now, conducted its weekly Qur’anic studies class, organized numerous in-house seminars, two academic meetings and three international conferences. The first academic meeting, a seminar on Islamic Approach to Development Management was held in Kota Bharu, Kelantan in 1998; while the second, a book discussion on Islamic Political Economy in Capitalist Globalization: An Agenda for Change, was co-organized with the Secretariat for Islamic Political Economy in Capitalist Globalization: An Agenda for Change, and was published by Utusan Publications and Distributors, 1996.

The books, all published by Utusan Publications and Distributors, are Political Economy, Managing Development, and Islamic Development Management: Managing Development.

The IDMP would not be able to accomplish its objectives without a solid financial base and a strong group of members to work tirelessly for the cause. The way forward

To date, the IDMP has enjoyed cooperation with various institutions in organizing its in-house seminars, academic meetings, international conferences and publications. It hopes to continue such cooperation, taking it further to the level of the individual to that of society, from spiritual to material and physical, and from the level of the individual to that of society, from spiritual to material and physical.

Notes

The third international conference on Islamic Political Economy in Capitalist Globalization: An Agenda for Change was co-organized with the Secretariat for Islamic Political Economy in Capitalist Globalization: An Agenda for Change, and was published by Utusan Publications and Distributors, 1996.

The books, all published by Utusan Publications and Distributors, are Political Economy, Managing Development, and Islamic Development Management: Managing Development.

The IDMP has, for nearly two years now, conducted its weekly Qur’anic studies class, organized numerous in-house seminars, two academic meetings and three international conferences. The first academic meeting, a seminar on Islamic Approach to Development Management was held in Kota Bharu, Kelantan in 1998; while the second, a book discussion on Islamic Political Economy in Capitalist Globalization: An Agenda for Change, was co-organized with the Secretariat for Islamic Political Economy in Capitalist Globalization: An Agenda for Change, and was published by Utusan Publications and Distributors, 1996.

The books, all published by Utusan Publications and Distributors, are Political Economy, Managing Development, and Islamic Development Management: Managing Development.

The IDMP would not be able to accomplish its objectives without a solid financial base and a strong group of members to work tirelessly for the cause. The way forward

To date, the IDMP has enjoyed cooperation with various institutions in organizing its in-house seminars, academic meetings, international conferences and publications. It hopes to continue such cooperation, taking it further to the level of the individual to that of society, from spiritual to material and physical, and from the level of the individual to that of society, from spiritual to material and physical.

Notes

The third international conference on Islamic Political Economy in Capitalist Globalization: An Agenda for Change was co-organized with the Secretariat for Islamic Political Economy in Capitalist Globalization: An Agenda for Change, and was published by Utusan Publications and Distributors, 1996.

The books, all published by Utusan Publications and Distributors, are Political Economy, Managing Development, and Islamic Development Management: Managing Development.